

XM radio provides an important means of delivering radio content including news. They should be free to also transmit weather and traffic information in these times of heightened alerts, limiting this type of data would be detrimental to public safety.